Congressman Conyers Asks President Obama for Global Family Day Proclamation

For Immediate Release

Washington, DC - On Wednesday, December 16, 2009, Global Family Day Programs (www.gfday.org) held a news conference at the U.S. Capitol. Speaking at this conference were, Congressman John Conyers Jr., Senate and House supporters, baseball pitching legend Doug Bair, Don Kraus, Executive Director of Global Solutions, and other members of DC's non-profit community.

Excerpt from Congressman Conyers' statement, ". . . we have yet to have a President issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to recognize Global Family Day, One Day of Peace and Sharing. I feel strongly that the President can lead the nation in observing a universal holiday, perhaps our most powerful tool for creating unity and inspiring action in response to our world's challenges. So, we ask that the President and the First Family lead the nation in observing Global Family Day, One Day of Peace and Sharing on January 1, 2010."

In the midst of the health care reform crisis, Representative John Conyers and Representative Dennis Kucinich introduced H. Con. Res. 221, a concurrent resolution requesting the President to issue a proclamation annually calling upon the people of the United States to observe Global Family Day, One Day of Peace and Sharing every January 1 and invite former Presidents, Nobel laureates, and other notables, including United States business, labor, faith, and civic leaders, to join with him in extending appropriate greetings from the families of the United States to families around the world.

Earlier this month, Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid and Senator Daniel Inouye took time to introduce S. Res 357, a Senate version of this resolution, which also urges all Americans to come together as one on January 1 to recognize and utilize Global Family Day, a potentially powerful tool for greater human unity and understanding.

Senator Inouye stated when introducing S. Res. 357, "We are a global society, interconnected by highly efficient modes of communication and transportation. With continued advancements in technology, nations will become even more interdependent upon each other. For this reason, I will continue to support and advocate for world peace. This is not a lofty pursuit. I have great confidence that if nations use everything at their disposal, they can promote peaceful, diplomatic options instead of war."

Global Family Day, (One Day of Peace and Sharing Every January 1), is a unique initiative that helps to bridge our differences both here at home and around the world. More than thirty sitting heads of state have personally endorsed this day, along with ambassadors representing two thirds of the world's population.

"This human achievement, which every family in the world can be proud of, sets a precedent for starting each new year as a responsible and cooperative human society developing traditions of sharing that reflect the reality of our growing interdependence," says Globalfamily Day founder Linda Grover. "And every person, family, community and country can help, just by participating in the holiday."

Globalfamily Day is an international day of peace and sharing to be celebrated every January 1 by the citizens of the world. It is a day where individuals and families share food with friends (especially the needy), make personal pledges of non-violence, and spread a message of peace and sharing by ringing bells or beating a drum in hopes of making society and the world a safer place to live.
